

Jack Huber

AUTHOR * PHOTOGRAPHER * FULL-TIME TRAVELER

A NICHE IN THE MYSTERY THRILLER GENRE

Embodying a quintessential, freedom-seeking Baby Boomer in search of the American Dream, Jack Huber has traveled before, but never like this. Gone are the four walls and carefully structured existence of a 9-to-5 job and lifestyle; instead the freedom of the road beckons.

With charitable hearts, solid family values and a healthy network of friends, Jack and his wife, Nadyne, have eagerly anticipated this next chapter in their lives, carefully planning the itinerary for their criss-crossing journey through the heartland and along the coasts of America to coincide with a book tour celebrating Jack's six-book Pat Ruger mystery series.

Jack has overcome and triumphed over many obstacles to get here and now has the joy of being able to write full-time. Book six, Oblivion Highway, completes the Pat Ruger series and Jack has embarked on his next writing adventure, a science fiction series. He chronicles his and Nadyne's journey in an ongoing series of blog posts and photographic portraits of America."

"Solitude, quiet, wide open spaces and the Milky Way are at your fingertips nearly everywhere you go." - Jack Huber

JACK AND NADYNE'S LIFE ON THE ROAD

Their Top Reasons for Quitting the 9-to-5:

They love the fact that if you don't like where you live, you can move, after all, you're mobile! It's also increased closeness in their relationship. For most loving couples, kindness, empathy and cooperation become second nature living in such close proximity. The ability to find solitude often is another upside, but when you're in the mood for socializing, it's easy to meet like-minded people in the RV community. It also lowers your cost of living, eliminating mortgage or rent payments.

Tourist attractions can be enjoyed off-season or middle of the week. You can linger as long as you want, exploring nature and attractions around the country; no more hurried vacation visits. Small towns can be explored at leisure, the ambiance relished and enjoyed. There is also a lot less to clean, living in a smaller space! And finally, what they enjoy most is being able to visit friends and family all over the country.

A PROLIFIC AUTHOR

In 2007, Jack Huber began writing and self-publishing poetry, many combined with his photographs. In addition to writing, Jack dreamed of seeing the country. With his wife, Nadyne's, encouragement, he started writing novels after attending a local writing symposium in Denver, Colorado, and has since published six Pat Ruger mystery novels, to the enthusiastic reception of his audience and fans.
